

ANNELIZE CROSBY

Regulatory Trends in the World and in South Africa: Environmental and Social Aspects Affecting the Agricultural Sector

Annelize studied law at the University of Pretoria and obtained the degrees BLC, LLB and LLM. Her masters degree was in constitutional law. After completing her articles and being admitted as an attorney, she lectured at the University of Pretoria for a while before joining Agri SA (then still called the South African Agricultural Union) in 1995 as legal advisor. She has been involved in the land debate for some 25 years and has represented Agri SA in many meetings, forums and conferences where land reform has been debated. She analyses policy and law from the perspective of the farming makes many of the representations on Agbiz's behalf in Parliament and at other public forums. She also monitors and reports on parliamentary processes as far as these impact on the farming value chain.