

PROF THEO VENTER

Current and Future Political Drivers

Theo Venter is professor of practice at the NWU Business School, previously attached to the School of Business and Economics at UJ. He was Special Advisor to two Vice Chancellors of the North-West University (2004-2016). Apart from being a facilitator, scenario planner and strategist, he is also a political commentator on South African politics, especially on radio and TV since 1987. He has previously received recognition at the NWU as one of the most quoted members of the university staff in the media. In 2015 he was nominated as Agriculturalist of the Year by journalists in agriculture. Since 2019 he has annually shared ideas on scenarios and business decisions with Theo Vorster on the TV programme Sakegesprek (Kyknet). He writes a monthly opinion column for Farmers Weekly and contributes regularly to Litnet in the Bulletin series. He recently also joined AMT for a weekly political discussion. He holds two master's degrees in political science of which one was obtained in the USA as a Fulbright Fellow. He also holds a Diploma in National Strategy from the Christian Albrecht University of Kiel, Germany (1986). He was chairperson of the Panel of Experts developing a Growth and Development Strategy for the NW Province (2022-2025).